Rachel's School of Dance Studio Etiquette

Studio policies must be adhered to at all times.

Dancers show respect for the Studio by:

- Leaving gum, food, drinks (other than water) and cell phones outside the dance room.
- Never hanging on bars in dance room or hitting the mirrors.
- No running or gymnastics in studio, lobby or dance room. (unless it is a structured Acro Class)
- Placing all trash in its proper place as well as not leaving clothes behind in the dance rooms or lobbies.
- Never wearing dance shoes outside, and wear a cover up (shorts, skirt, dress, pants, shirt) over dance clothes when arriving and leaving the studio.

Parents show respect for Dancers, Teachers and the Studio by:

- Staying away from the viewing door if it is obvious that the students are becoming distracted.
- Having students ready for class on time
- Watching over their children while waiting in the lobby by; not allowing them to be disruptive to the classes that are in session, no running or horseplay, keeping the noise level to a minimum.
- Ensuring that their students know all of the studio rules.
- Addressing the staff at Rachel's with respect and common courtesy.
- Addressing all questions at the end or beginning of class if it is a quick question, or by email/phone.

Dancers show respect for themselves by:

- Being on time and properly prepared for class.
- Wearing correct dance attire each week that is required for each of the different curriculum. If you have several different classes in one day you must be prepared for each class that you take.
- No jewelry except for small earrings are allowed in class.
- Carrying yourself properly for a young lady or gentleman, by keeping your appearance clean and neat at all times.
- Please note that you are watched at all times by younger students, other adults and teachers. If you are not conducting yourself in a positive manner this shows poorly on you. This also does not set a good example for the younger dancers that may look up to you.

Dancers show respect for their peers by:

- Keeping their hands to themselves at all times.
- Waiting quietly while other students take their turn in class.
- Waiting for the class before to be finished before entering the dance room.
- Raising their hand when they have a question as to not interrupt the class session.
- Keeping our words to one another kind and polite. Any student that does not adhere to this rule may risk expulsion from the studio.
- If you are having issues with one of your peers it must be addressed immediately with Ms. Rachel.

Dancers show respect for their teachers and the art of dance by:

- Keeping your full attention on the instructor each time you enter the room. You are here to learn first and foremost.
- No sitting in class at any time unless asked to do so by the instructor; as well as no yawning, whispering, talking or having private giggles during class time. Some of these may seem silly but they do show/or can be taken as a lack of respect for your teacher.
- Please do not take it upon yourself to correct your Instructor, Peers or Guest Teachers. All corrections need to be made by the instructor.
- Always be prepared when it is your turn.
- Always ask permission before exiting the class room if you need a bathroom break.
Please use the restroom before entering your class.
- Be appreciative of corrections and always apply them. Students will only progress as fast as they take corrections.
